

They say respect has to be earned.

When nurses are called upon...we answer the call.
When patients need our care...we're there for them.
When every day brings increasing risk...we hold the line.

The government often calls us heroes. But what we really need from them is action. Make sure we have the right PPE in our workplaces. When we're exposed to COVID-19 and have to self-isolate, pay us. Give us a say in our scheduling and working conditions.

Don't override our collective agreements.
Ensure that our compensation is determined fairly.

To Ontario's Conservative government we say this:
Prove through your actions that you respect our courage and value the vital work we're doing.

Respect
